ENTHUSIASM IN CRUCIAL GAME BECOMES KEEN

McGill Has Stronger Team Than In Last Varsity Game.

FINAL WORK-OUT.

Varsity Confident Of Win Over Shaugnessy's McGill Squad.

When the McGill squad lines up against the 'Varsity fourteen at the Stadium to-morrow afternoon, it will be a vastly improved Red and White team that Coach Shaughnessy will send out to battle with the Blue and White from that which met defeat at the hands of Laddie Cassell's players at Toronto two weeks ago. Judging from the spirit which the players have been showing during their practice stunts this week, and the air of determination which prevails around "Shag's" camp, the fourteen wearers of the Red and White have every hope of copping the honors on Saturday. While "Shag" and his players have little to say regarding the chances of the team against 'Varsity, still the determined air that has spread from the gridiron to the University as a whole speaks volumes.

While every confidence is felt by the supporters of the Red and White, the 'Varsity enthusiasts are no whit behind in boosting the chances of the Blue and White, so that no matter what the outcome is on Saturday, a mighty tussle is assured when the two teams start to-morrow.

'Varsity will be at full strength with the exception of Westman, middle wing player of Laddie Cassell's squad, who threw his shoulder in a practice a few days ago. As Toronto is well supplied with first-rate spares, the loss of Westman will not prove a serious handicap to the team. Otherwise, it is expected that the Toronto squad will be about the same as that which opposed McGill in the last game. Cassells has been putting his players through strenuous practices all week in preparation for the struggle, and it is considered in the Queen City that the fourteen to represent Toronto to-morrow will be the strongest fielded by the Blue and White this season.

With but one day to go, enthusiasm in the tussle for honors in the Intercollegiate grows apace, and while there are still a few seats yet to be sold, it is anticipated that the entire reserved section will be sold out by Saturday morning, and that the crowd that attends the game will be one of the largest seen at a Rugby match in Montreal. With this, the biggest battle of the year, the usual colorful gathering of spectators is expected to fill the stand, and it is a certainty that the Red and White ribbons and pennants will be well mixed with Blue and White, for, besides the big "Rooters' Club that "Teedles" Thompson and Joe Wain will turn out to cheer for McGill, there will be present a large number of 'Varsity rooters, who will come down to-morrow morning in time to cheer for their team.

With one of the snappiest practices of the season, "Shag" concluded the heavy work-outs for the team yesterday afternoon, and to-day will only put the players through a light

MEETING OF MECHANICAL CLUB HELD

Papers Delivered By Various Members.

J. C. HALL PRESIDED.

Features Of Applied Mechanical Methods Were Ably Dealt With.

The first meeting of the Mechanical Club was held in Room 38, Engineering Building, on Wednesday evening, November 3rd, and fulfilled the highest hopes of the executive. About fifty members were present.

The president, J. C. Hall, opened the meeting with a few introductory remarks regarding the club affairs and the speakers for the evening.

The first paper, read by N. M. Durant, Sci. '21, dealt with "Crude Oil: Its Production, Storage and Shipment." The manner of drilling the holes to a depth of from 2,000 to 3,000 feet, inserting the steel pipes, and capping, were clearly described, showing the precautions taken in case of premature blow of the oil, thus causing great waste of oil and danger to property from fire. The speaker showed the method of piping to the shipping depot, filtering out the gas, water and impurities en route.

An interesting feature was the way in which long pipe lines were run 2 1-4 miles out to sea, at which distance ships are compelled to remain off-shore while loading. It was well illustrated with lantern slides.

After a short recess, the second paper was read by Lord Congleton, Sci. '21, on "Oil Fuel Burning in Marine Boilers." The advantages of oil as a fuel compared with coal was discussed from the standpoint of naval and commercial use. The details of installation in each type of ship were very clearly explained, illustrated by slides, and the different conditions of operation in both services were thoroughly discussed.

The paper was intensely interesting, and the members enjoyed every moment of it. It displayed a knowledge of the subject such as can only be acquired by several years of practical experience in this work, which the speaker has had in the British Navy.

A general discussion followed, during which members had an opportunity to ask questions on uncertain points. Prof. C. M. McKergow, the honorary president, then made some very helpful remarks by way of constructive criticism on the manner of delivery of the speakers.

The meeting was both interesting and instructive from start to finish, especially to members of the junior years.

An announcement regarding the next trip will be made in the "Daily" as soon as the necessary arrangements are made.

"SING."

Regular Sunday evening "Sing" will be held in Strathcona Hall on November 7th. All are cordially invited to spend a social hour.

When a grad gets out into the cold, cold world, all he has to show are a couple of degrees. Just like a thermometer in a cold, cold world!

Y. M. WORKERS ON FURLOUGH WERE AT HALL

Very Interesting Talks Were Given.

INDIA AND CHINA.

Great Changes Taking Place In the East.

An appreciative audience heard Messrs. L. A. Dixon and H. F. Thompson recount impressions of their sojourn in the East at Strathcona Hall last night. Angus Maclean, in introducing the speakers, remarked on the very important role being played by students all over the world.

Mr. Leonard A. Dixon, O.B.E., M.A., 'Varsity '10, who was in charge of the Y.M.C.A. in Mesopotamia during the war, gave a most interesting talk. He unfolded facts heretofore unknown here. Mr. Dixon showed that the often heard expression, "the changeless East," was entirely wrong. Several important happenings have brought about tremendous changes. First of all, the war, which had had the effect of wakening up India. Secondly, the hope of self-government, after the passage of the India Reform Bill in December, 1919.

The next point touched upon was the uproar created by the so-called Amritsar massacre in April, 1919, when General Dyer's men killed 400 people and wounded 2,000. The last point was the discontent among the seventy million Mohammedans in India since the dismemberment of the Turkish Empire, subsequent to the peace treaty.

The two ideals of every Indian student are nationalization and self-government. The new democratic spirit has even taken root in the missions, where native teachers have been installed.

The responsibilities for the future of India rest with her 10,000 students. Out of a gigantic population of 315 millions, 95 per cent. are illiterate.

Mr. Dixon then told of the great work the Y.M.C.A. is doing in India. The Association is regarded as an Indian organization, natives being the leaders in the majority of stations.

He said the Christian workers in India were not trying to destroy the native beliefs, but to show what was good and noble in them, and that Christ was the fulfilment of their ideals.

How Indians of rank are acknowledging the Christian spirit was well illustrated by the fact that Sir Rabindranath Tagore, the eminent poet, was writing a life of Christ. A petition had been sent by 450 leading non-Christians of Putna to the Association headquarters at Calcutta, asking for a branch to be operated there.

He said that the group of Christian men and women who had done service in India had done the greatest work of all persons serving there.

Herbert F. Thompson, M.A., a graduate of McGill in 1912, then gave an equally interesting talk on the work in China. Great changes were also taking place there. There has been an improvement in the situation, though the military power and superstition are still great.

FLASHY HATS FOR THUNDERING ONES

Will Add Color To Appearance Of Rooters' Club On Saturday.

One of the big features of the game Saturday will be the hats worn by the Rooters. These hats are little, round, red and white sectioned hats, and will be sold for 2 cents at the practice to-morrow night. Every Rooter is expected to buy one and add color and gayety to the club at the game. The price is insignificant, as the value is in the cap, and it will always be a souvenir worth while keeping and an ornament to wear on such occasions as theatre nights, dinners, etc.

Everybody get a hat and be with the gang.

They go on sale at the practice to-night. Get a hat early, as there are only a limited number for sale.

THE DECIDING GAME

The situation in Inter-Collegiate football is full of possibilities and the game to-morrow is being looked forward to with more anticipation than has been manifested since 1914. A victory for McGill to-morrow will result in a tie with Varsity, while a defeat will administer the "coup de grace" to our championship aspirations for this season.

Both teams are going into the game fit and confident and it is generally admitted that they will be very evenly matched. McGill, however, will have the advantage of playing on her own stadium and to take full advantage of this opportunity we, every one of us, must do our part. It is obviously impossible for the whole university to get out there on the field, but we can at least do the next best thing. We can second the efforts of our team in no uncertain manner if we make it our individual business to go to the game ready and prepared to root, with all the lung-power Nature has given us.

We cannot believe that there is a single student at McGill who will require any urging to make him attend the game, but more is required. It is our privilege, as well as our duty, to do everything in our power to ensure that "victory shall crown our shield," and no one can feel entitled to say, in the event of our success, that WE won unless he has assisted towards that "consumation so devoutly to be wished" by an unsparing use of his vocal organs from the first kick-off to the final blast of the whistle.

R. V. C. NOTES

SENIORS!!

Don't forget the Senior Play meeting at 5 o'clock to-day in the Common Room.

W. C. QUAYLE JOINS STAFF.

Mr. W. C. Quayle has joined the instructional staff of the Macdonald Physics Building.

He was delayed by an accident which occurred in Belgium, and he arrived by the Empress on November 3rd.

Mr. Quayle was educated at the Liverpool Institute and subsequently graduated at the University of Liverpool. For four years he has been Lecturer in Physics at Cairo, in the University of Egypt. Owing to the political changes in Egypt, and to the development of national aspirations, instruction even in scientific subjects in that country will in future be given in Arabic.

Mr. Quayle joins McGill with high recommendations from the educational authorities and from his old universities.

Education's a great thing: it broadens out the young man, and flattens out the old man.

Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days.

As a striking illustration, he told of the great improvements in Canton during the past year, the eighty-foot boulevards and streets laid out and many of the old walls torn down. Buildings as high as ten storeys had been erected.

He then told of the great work done. Not only have religious and educational advancements been made, but the people are physically much stronger.

The native boys evince great interest in games such as volley ball and basketball and nearly always defeat the Europeans.

The Association had only been in Canton since 1915, when it was established by means of a $40,000 grant from the Montreal Y.M.C.A. It then had 500 members. To-day it has 3,000, and the receipts for this year are expected to total $100,000.

Chinamen of wealth and position strongly support the Association. C. T. Wang, a member of the Peace Congress at Versailles, is a friend of the Y.M.C.A. The boys are doing great social service, organizing clubs all over the cities.

Mr. Mackay thanked the two speakers for their excellent addresses, and the meeting concluded with the singing of Hail, Alma Mater and the National Anthem.

An English story tells of a merchant finding his clerk on the floor looking dazed and battered.

"What's happened?" he inquired.

"An Irishman came in for an overcoat, and I asked him if he wanted an ulster," replied the vanquished one.

They used to dance the "hesitation." They hesitate at nothing now.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Allow me to make a few suggestions with regard to some of the rooters' yells and songs. The glaring errors that have appeared in some of the songs, have certainly attracted notice; yet, no attempt has been made to correct them.

Some of the songs seem to have been stuck in for the sole purpose of taking up space. Such yells as "Pep, Pep," "Bing, Bang," etc., have proved of no use, yet they are still taking up space. Songs like those to the tune of "Take Me To the Land of Jazz," "Silver Bells," and "Hold Me," have not been tried and are not being practiced: so what's the use of sticking them in. The one to the tune of "Hold Me," has appeared four times and each time several words were omitted. I pointed out this error to "Teedles" Thompson, yet nothing has been done to alter it. Common sense shows that the words as published do not "go" to the music, so why publish a thing when it can't be done properly? Also, what is the sense in publishing a song like "Oh Queens We'll Get You Yet" after the game with the Queens is over. All this serves to show that no care whatsoever is taken in the publishing of songs and yells.

The leaders of the rooters should select carefully the best yells and songs and have the rooters practice these well, instead of casting about for new yells at the last moment.

I think that it would be a good thing if all the rooters, or as many as possible, would appear in red and white sweaters for Saturday's game. This would have the double effect of brightening up the crowd and of stimulating the enthusiasm of the rooters themselves.

Lastly, but by no means leastly, it would be a very good thing to have a Rooter Executive, whose duty it would be to collect and choose songs and yells and take care of the different things that go to make a successful Rooter Association; for everyone will agree with me that this is one of the most (if not THE most) important organizations of the present.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space, I am,

Very truly yours,
McGILL ROOTER.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Once more the question of Freshmen featuring at college functions frisks forward, fresh and fit. Another Daniel has come to judgment and "won't be happy till he gets it." It is unfortunate that such latent talent was not unearthed before the University selected its present leader.

Seeing that the supply of tickets for the Junior dance is insufficient for the third year, your correspondent would seem to be somewhat previous in the presentation of his views. Like Sci Ernest Barrie's characters, he will some day find that he is not young enough to know everything.

ANOTHER SENIOR.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Permit me to draw the attention of young Mr. "Victorious Eighth" to the fact that his source of information is very evidently erroneous. Having succeeded in communicating via "Ouija" with the late Chas. Darwin and the late Dr. Gardner, erstwhile Simian specialists, I am in a position to state that the absence of the organ in question is the essential characteristic of the ape. If this young gentleman possesses a desire for erudition equal to his enthusiasm, let him consult Nelson's horse half encyclopaedia, vol. 1., p. 285, "None of the anthropoids has a tail." Much additional information as to the habits and habitats of his relations will thus be rendered available to him.

"PITHECANTHROPUS."

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Permit me to suggest to "One in a Thousand" that he should take his suggestion to a cetrain local institution where its use would seem more appropriate.

MENS SANA.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Has it occurred to your verdant correspondent that the object of the Conversat is to furnish fair, female friends for Freshies?

The superior mental and physical attractions of the upper class man stand in no need of such artificial aids to social intercourse, and even our most gifted freshies would be snowed under a competition with these Knights Commander of the Lounge.

Permit me further to remark that the duty of upper class men is to support the stadium by taking "her" there, and not by hunting for a dismunt in exchange for so called harmony.

The time is not yet come when a little child shall lead us.

SENEX.

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

May I have a little of your valuable space to reply to the letter appearing in yesterday's issue over the signature "Vivant Feminee"? I think it devolves upon me as a person new to McGill to defend ourselves as we are supposed to make up the majority of the rooters.

In his letter the writer alludes to the "College Spirit" that we should show. That sounds all right if one understands college spirit from his point of view, but personally I cannot see it in that light. I do not think that it is all fair to the opponents who are away from home to cheer against them all the time. It must take the heart out of them to a certain extent, and in that case it would not be the team which won the game, but the rooters. Which is not sportsmanship. And besides, even granting that it is all right for the men to indulge in this practice, do you not think, sir, that it is rather beneath the dignity of a lady to sit out there and yell her head off?

Couldn't there be such a thing as the women being too proud to root, to quote a famous phrase?

And moreover, our voices are not strong enough to stand the intense strain of yelling in the open air, such as you would have us do. Please remember that many of us are taking a course in singing and rooting is positively injurious to the cultivation of the voice.

I think, Mr. Editor, that from the reasons stated above, we have a good case as to why we should not behave more or less like idiots just because a group of men students choose to do so.

I remain, sir,

Very sincerely yours,
"TACEANT MULIERES."

To the Editor, "McGill Daily."

Dear Sir,—

Recently I have noticed around the vicinity of the Science Building the letters "W. W. L. U." appearing in every part of the building. What this means, or what it is I know not, but I should like to ask if steps should not be taken to look into the matter. Possibly we have the embryo of some I. W. W. organization threatening to spring up and raise commotion and confusion in the ranks of the Plumbers. Possibly it is merely some new advertisement put out in this form to attract attention.

Whatever it be I am of the opinion that it should not be allowed to work in the dark.

Thanking you for your space, Mr. Editor,

I am,

APPREHENSION.

ORDINATION HELD AT THE WESLEYAN

Interesting Ceremony Performed By Methodist Clergy Last Night.

Wesleyan students last night were privileged to enjoy a service of more than ordinary interest in college life. The occasion was the ordination of Mr. Harold White into the Christian ministry. Rev. Robert Smith, president of the Montreal Conference, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Principal Smythe, Dr. Rose. Rev. Professor Gifford delivered the address of the evening, giving an address that was an uplift and an inspiration to all who listened to his message. Words of wisdom and appeal expressed with such beauty of language and clearness of thought could not but touch the heart and quicken the life within.

Taking for a text those words of the Master, "I go My way unto Him that sent Me," the speaker outlined the circumstances of the utterance. These words of peace were spoken at a time when outward events were not conducive to a quiet mind. Yet the Master had peace to leave with His followers while "He went His way."

Recalling that many of those present were going out some day to a great mission, the speaker offered the challenge "Whatever comes or goes in life, shall we be able likewise to say, 'I go my way unto Him that sent me'." The grounds which we have for peace within were clearly shown; some of the struggles through life were pointed out and conclusive evidence was given to show that we can have no real peace but in God.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered at the close of the service.

TEN LITTLE FRESHMEN.

Ten little freshmen standing in a line,
One wore an orange tie—and then there were nine.
Nine little freshmen leaning on a gate,
One wore a derby—and then there were eight.
Eight little freshmen sure to go to heaven,
One wouldn't sing—and then there were seven.
Seven little freshmen with the Sophs did mix,
One began to yell "police"—and then there were six.
Six little freshmen very much alive,
One wore the blue and white—and then there were five.
Five little freshmen feeling pretty sore,
Took a walk across the grass—and then there were four.
Four little freshmen determined to be free,
Yelled "Hurrah for '24"—and then there were three.
Three little freshmen not knowing what to do,
Rested on the Lib'ry steps—and then there were two.
Two little freshmen thought the day was done,
Got "all spruced up" at 8 p.m.—and then there was one.
One little freshman feeling all alone,
Travelled back to Brooklyn — and then there was none. Amen.

GRIDIRON GRIST

(By "FIELD GOAL."

As the time for the big game on Saturday draws nearer, a quiet feeling of confidence has begun to invade the McGill team and its supporters. All week Shaughnessy has had his men working hard, and from what can be gathered, everything is going along in the very best possible way. As a result of the practices having been made very secret, there is little definite news as to the line-up of the team on Saturday. 'Varsity have also been holding their practices this week behind closed doors — Coach "Laddie" Cassels not wanting to be outdone by "Shag."

From all accounts, the 'Varsity team will be practically at full strength on Saturday. McGill is as strong as the Blue and White on the wing line. — one writer of football dope even having gone so far as to figure out that "Shag's" machine made their yards once more than the Blue and White. In view of this, the superiority, if any, of the 'Varsity team, must have been behind the line. The manner in which their points were scored would also lead to the belief that this was the case, eight of 'Varsity's thirteen points being directly attributable to the kicking of the Toronto backs. On Saturday next the Blue and White will have these same men in action. A word about who they are.

J. Taylor, who has been doing most of the punting for 'Varsity, played on the Blue and White Intermediates last season. He is a good punter and gets great height as well as considerable distance. Taylor learned his football at St. Andrew's College School, Toronto, which place has recruited many famous footballers who have starred in the Intercollegiate. Taylor is not a particularly heavy man, but is husky and well able to stand plenty of hard going.

MacKenzie, another of 'Varsity's backs, is an old-timer as far as Intercollegiate games are concerned. "Red" had a good deal to do with McGill's defeat in 1914. He is a good kicker on occasions, but is inclined to be very erratic. In 1913 and 1914 MacKenzie was one of the best backs in the Intercollegiate, and did much to defeat McGill in the play-off in Toronto in the latter year. He will have to be carefully watched on Saturday and given no chance whatever to get in any of his winning kicks or end runs.

Breen, who is the third half-back on which the Blue and White regularly relies, is a speed artist, being a sprinter of considerable fame. However, he has one weakness, which is very dangerous for his team, and that is, his hands are far from good. He has been known to fumble many catches during important games. This weakness is well known to "Shag" and his men.

Duncan, who plays flying wing for 'Varsity, is a husky player and a dangerous man at all times. He played formerly with T.R.A.A. in Toronto; as did the 'Varsity quarter-back, Hobbs.

Since the game in Toronto on October 23rd, Shaughnessy has done his best to strengthen the Red and White back division, and it is the opinion of the best-informed fans that the McGill coach has been successful. The addition of Carroll to the team has added great strength in a much needed way. Carroll's performance last Saturday, considering it was his first game for the Red and White, and that he had only been here at McGill for a few days, was very pleasing to the followers of the team. With Flanagan and Carroll doing the kicking, and the latter's ability to put the odd drop over the bar, prospects of McGill's being quite able to hold her own with the Blue and White in this department of the game seems very bright. "Boo" Anderson has it all over Duncan as a flying wing, and it is presumed to be a fact that Shaughnessy will play "Boo" in this position. As regards the other half-back, besides Flanagan and Carroll, speculation is rife. There are several men all on about a par who are mentioned for this position, but nothing definite will be known to the public as regards Shaughnessy's choice until the team lines up for the kick-off. The position of quarter-back is also not finally filled as yet.

We repeat, that as time goes on, and we carefully look over the prospects for Saturday, our confidence grows.

LONDON'S CHINATOWN A LURE FOR GIRLS OF NEIGHBOURHOOD

London, Oct. 28 (By Mail)—"Chinatown," in the East End of London, is much in the limelight just now since a police magistrate commented in strong terms upon the evil influence the oriental denizens have upon the young girls of the neighborhood. Whether it is the scarcity of young Englishmen, due to the war, or to some weird fascination exercised by the "Chinks" themselves, hundreds of young girls of the lower class are obsessed by Chinatown's lure and spend much time in its noisome dens playing "puck-a-pu," and falling completely into the hands of its slant-eyed denizens. Many girls are married to Chinamen, while many more have borne half-breed children without that formality.

Their Outlook on Life.

One very pretty girl, about twenty years of age, is married to a Chinaman, who is the father of her four children. Laura was previously married to a white man. Answering a remark of mine that I supposed there was not much difference in home life between white men and Chinamen, Laura replied: "No, there really ain't no difference. A white'll black yer eye. A Chink'll cut yer throat."

And this is quite generally the outlook on life of the girls who haunt Chinatown.

With resigned philosophy, Laura expounded her views on her life and of any white woman who lives with a Chinaman.

"They treat you all right," she said, "if you be-ave yourself. They like you to look flash and to go and 'ave baths and all. So long as you don't shame their face you're all right. What I mean is: if you take up with a Hong-kong man, you mustn't make friends with a chap from Shanghai, or you're in for it."

Are Well Found.

There can be no doubt that the white girl is largely to blame for the present situation. Many of these young girls are the daughters of dockers or stevedores. They crave for "a bit of life." They find it in the promenades in the East India or West India dock-road, or in cosmopolitan Cable street.

The girl who lives with a Chinaman has money to spend, smart clothes to wear, new and fashionable shoes. One English wife in Chinatown says her husband hands her $100 a week. He is at home most of the day, and she does not know how he derives his income; but the $100 is paid her as regularly as clockwork.

One of the Oddest stories in chinatown concerns a child thief. The child stole sixpence to gamble on "puck-a-pu." Her mother scolded her, but soon afterwards learnt that as a result of the "draw" the stolen sixpence had won her child $150. The fame of this incident has gone throughout the district. Losses receive little publicity, and the fate of prodigal daughters led by inexperience into disastrous paths, little sympathy.

A Sickening Record.

More girls with broken reputations are found in this area, according to official evidence, than in any other police area of London. Their life stories make a sickening record. There is an authentic case of a father prosecuted for allowing the association of a Chinaman with a girl under 13. There is another case of a man with two daughters both unmarried mothers at 16. In each case the father of the baby was a Chinaman.

Besides this problem, there is a secret traffic in opium. The haul of opium at one of the raided dens was worth about $1,500. Since September, the importation of opium without a license has been prohibited, and possession of opium can be punished by a fine of $1,000. The price of prepared opium has consequently risen, and commands, it is said, up to $100 a pound. The rewards of smuggling are consequently very high, and it is evident that Chinese seamen have been bringing parcels of opium into this country carefully concealed about their persons or in their kit.

According to British members of the crew, nearly every Chinaman engaged in a ship that recently discharged at Liverpool had opium, and managed to evade search. It is stated that three or four rich Chinamen are engaged in the traffic in London, and that high prices are paid for supplies for the West End, where opium smoking has a certain number of votaries among women of the night club class. Opium parties have been held which were attended by well-known women in quest of new experiences.

SPEAKING OF COMFORT

A McGill man came into the Regal Boot Shop early this week and said that he wanted a pair of Boots that would make his feet feel at home in them.

"Give me good looks if you can," he said, "but, oh, boy, give me comfort—my feet are nearly crazy."

When he left our shop he wore a pair of brogues which had the looks, the comfort, the wear, and the right price.

He said they had looks, comfort and price—and we told him about the wear, because we know it's there.

ALL ROOTERS TO CUT LOOSE THIS EVENING

Every Man Should Plan To Attend.

CYCLONE FINISH.

This Afternoon At 5.15 Will Be the Last Practice.

To-night, yes everybody, to-night will be the last work-out of the grand army of Rooters before the big game on Saturday. The scene of operations will be the top flat of the Union and the time is 5.15 right on the old button. It is useless to shoot a line on the absolute necessity of every man belonging to Old McGill to be out and at it. The fact is, and it is a noisy one, too, that 500 Toronto supporters are shooting the ties down to Montreal for the game. They will be there, and it is up to the Rooters to see to it that they are not heard from during the game.

Further, the good old team representing us needs the whole-hearted support of every available man, and we can guarantee them that all the crew will be out.

The band will be at the work-out to-night with everything from a steam calliope to a bazzoo. They have all been shining up their instruments, and will be on by Saturday sure.

To-night the procedure will be as follows: Yells, talk over all plans for Saturday, including a parade, and a couple of new songs. The Union will hold 1,000 men, and that number is expected out. Everyone must know the yells by Saturday, so grab an old "Daily" and learn them off.

Seats will go on sale immediately after the practice, and there is enough for all, so everyone be there with 4 bits ready cash so as there will be no delay in handing them out.

Everybody out, and make this the best practice yet. A lively time is guaranteed by the leaders, who promise action from start to finish. A thousand are wanted, but 1,500 will be better. There will be room for everyone.

Save your voices for to-night at 5.15 at the Union, and a victory Saturday is assured.

All out and open out.

Yesterday is dead—forget it. To-morrow does not exist—don't worry. To-day is here—use it.

The demagogue's pride licks the dust.

McGILL SECONDS PLAY AT QUEEN'S

Results Of Game Will Have Bearing On Future Games.

Ready to add to the lead it gained in the race for honors in the Intermediate Intercollegiate Rugby League, when it chalked up eight points against the Queen's team here last Saturday, the McGill seconds will leave this evening for Kingston to play the return game in the series of a home and home match against the Presbyterians in the semi-finals for titular honors. On Saturday the Red and White seconds hook up with the Tri-color Intermediates, and if the team succeeds in at lest keeping the Queen's squad from getting an eight point lead at the end of the game, will earn the privilege of playing off with winners of the section around Toronto for the Intercollegiate title. On the showing made at the old campus last week, the Red and White seconds are conceded a good chance of winning the match at Kingston to-morrow.

Last Saturday was the first time this season that Marsh Kern's huskies have had a chance to play together and with the excellent training the squad received while working with the seniors this week, will take to the gridiron against Queen's in the second game in far better shape than a week ago.

A win on points for the Red and White squad on Saturday means a play-off with the winner of the southern section of the league, which organization is at present conducting a three-cornered tie with 'Varsity, St. Michael's and Western University all bunched in the lead.

The following players will go down to Kingston with the seconds, and are requested to meet at the Union at 10 o'clock this evening: McLaren, L. Kern, Andy Fraser, Drum, Ross, Armstrong, Bill McDonald, McMann, Mallison, Jones, Jones, M. Kern, Salter, Hamilton, Brown, Taylor, Robinson, Hampson and Hutchison.

According to a wire received by the "Daily" last night, Col. Constantine, of R.M.C., and Mr. Kelly, of the Kingston Collegiate, will officiate.

Poverty is no disgrace, but there is precious little else can be said for it.

INTER-THEO. SOCCER IS PROGRESSING

Presbyterians Defeat Wesleyans Yesterday Morning.

ERRATIC SHOOTING.

Wesleyans Were Ably Supported By Their "Ear Splitting Eighteen."

The Presbyterians notched another two points in their race for the championship of the Inter-theological College Soccer League yesterday morning, when they trimmed the Wesleyan outfit by the score of 2—0. The score does not indicate the superiority of the winners. It is not too much to say that the Wesleyans were outclassed from start to finish, and, as before, the erratic shooting of the Presbyterian squad caused the small score. Though outplayed, the Wesleyan eleven fought gamely to the end, and put up a gallant fight throughout the whole game.

The Wesleyans had an excellent support in their "ear-splitting eighteen," who turned out at that early hour of the morning to cheer their team. Possibly they constituted one reason for the Presbyterians not equalling the former score of 3—0.

In the first half of the game play was fast and furious, but no score resulted until about two minutes from the end of the period, when McPhail headed a beautiful shot into the goal. About one minute later he scored on a well-placed stinger, which completely fooled the goalie.

During the second half the Presbyterians failed to avail themselves of several splendid opportunities to score. The Wesleyans tried hard to register a tally, and got one shot at their opponents' goal, but it went wild.

The Presbyterian line-up was weakened to a certain extent by the absence of Amiaron, who was suffering from injuries sustained in the Inter-faculty Rugby match the previous afternoon.

Bob Hall was the star of the match undoubtedly. His brilliant work as back contributed greatly to the success of the team. McPhail and Britton also played stellar games.

For the Wesleyans Kelloway and Davis played good soccer. But outside of one of the backs they did not get much support.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Wesleyans: Goal, Boyes; full backs, Britt, Moreland; half-backs, MacFarlane, Davis, Middlemiss; forwards, Edgecombe, Kelloway, Roberts, Whaler, Wright.

Presbyterians: Goal, Stewart; full backs, Britton, Hall; half-backs, Wilson, Martineau, McGerrigle; forwards Birson, Cousens, Woodhouse, McPhail, Lloyd.

The standing of the league so far is as follows:

	P.	W.	T.	Pts.
Presbyterians	3	2	1	5
Congregationals	2	0	2	2
Wesleyans	3	0	1	1

LAW WOMEN ARE GIVEN PRIVILEGES

Business Transacted At the Meeting Of R.V.C. Undergrad Society.

A meeting of the R.V.C. Undergraduate Society was held in the Common Room at one o'clock, November 4th, with the president, Miss Spier, in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A letter from the women students of the Faculty of Law was then read, asking that they should be admitted to the honorary membership of the Undergraduate Society. After some discussion, it was proposed by Miss Winnifred Birkett that this should be granted under the following conditions:

1. Such privileges to be extended only until such time as it shall be deemed advisable,—either by a meeting of original members of R.V.C. Undergraduate Society, or by a meeting of the Law members of R.V.C. U.S., to withdraw to form a society of their own.

2. Law students desirous of becoming members of R.V.C. U.S. must hand in their names and pay a fee ($2.50) during the first month of the college session.

3. Law students who become members of R.V.C. U.S., and desire class rights, must pay class fees.

4. Undergraduates in the Faculty of Law who are graduates of another Faculty or of another University, may, on handing in their names to the secretary of the society, become honorary members of the R.V.C. U.S. This implies that they shall pay no fees and shall take no part in any competitions organized by the various R.V.C. societies.

This motion was moved, seconded, and carried, and the constitution was amended to the effect. The meeting then adjourned.

signal practice. Getting right down under the plays, the team showed all of the pep that was missing in the last game against 'Varsity, and demonstrated clearly that they were "out for gore." Every man was on his toes, and the signals were carried out with hardly a hitch. A pleasing feature was the manner in which the players watched their step insofar as "off-sides" and "no-yards" were concerned, mistakes which were apparent in the Queen's game last Saturday, but which will not be so promiscuous to-morrow.

The Old Boys had to get up there before the game, and yesterday, despite all precautions, in they came filtering through all the unguarded openings in the fence and viewing at satisfaction the younger fry going through their drill.

Although the line-up is not definitely announced, it is likely that Flanagan, Carroll and Russell will be found on the half line, while there is every chance of "Bones" Little getting an opportunity to shine, as the younger player has been producing on all kinds of stuff during the past couple of weeks. Anderson is the probable choice for flying wing with Don Baillie and Gordie Ross candidates for the key position at quarter. The line will most likely consist of the old regulars, with the possible exception of Selby Cope at right inside. Gordie Murphy has been filling in for the latter since his slight injury two days ago, and from the way he came through against Queen's and the manner in which he has been going at things at practice, this keen young player can be counted on to hit the 'Varsity line hard.

That the game will be in good hands is apparent with the announcement of the selection of L. Macaulay and Dr. L. C. Montgomery as officials.

The 'Varsity squad is expected to reach the city this evening, and will rest up for the big game to-morrow, while their rooters are due to arrive on Saturday morning, and will stay for the game only, returning to Toronto Saturday evening.

A.C.L. WILL MEET MEDS. ON CAMPUS

Science In Lead For Number Of Games Won So Far.

Another Inter-faculty Rugby clash will occur to-day at 3 p.m., when Arts-Commerce-Law meet Medicine on the Campus. There is much interest being taken this year in Inter-faculty football, and each side has had a good number of rooters at every game. So far A.C.L. has won one and lost one game, Science has won two and lost one, and the Meds. have lost one. To-day's game promises to be a keenly fought battle, as Medicine will attempt to keep themselves in the running, and Arts will, of course, have a pretty strong team with which to counter those attempts. The result is awaited with keen expectation. May the best side win!

After this game there is but one more to play, when Medicine meets Science on Wednesday, Nov. 10.

MR. RAIMONDI FOR THE FENCING CLUB

Is To Take Training Of B. W. and F. Branch In Hand.

The Fencing Club, which has suffered numerous reverses this season, principally with regard to the difficulty of securing an instructor for the season, appears to have solved its multidinous problems at last.

Mr. John Long, who instructed the fencers last year, finds himself unable to undertake the regular instruction of the club, but has consented to give the more advanced men the benefit of his wide experience in the art, in a purely unofficial manner. As permanent instructor, the club has been fortunate enough to secure the services of Mr. Raimondi.

Mr. Raimondi has had lifelong experience in fencing. Coming originally from France, he has acted successively as instructor to the London Fencing Club, which is the acknowledged rendezvous of the elite of British fencers, and as instructor at Oxford. During the past year or so, Mr. Raimondi has been official instructor to a fencing club in this city, which comprises among its members the foremost Montreal fencers.

The officials of the club have now succeeded in fixing the hours of practice. They will be held on Tuesday and Thursday, at 5.15 p.m., in the basement of the Union. The first practice will be held on Tuesday next, the 9th instant.
